Foreword

We, the Carver High Seniors of 1962-1963, wish to leave with our parents, teachers, underclassmen, and to all our friends, who have been an inspiration to us, a brief record of our last four prosperous years at Dear Old Carver.

These last four years of our long struggle were filled with work, happiness and excitement. We have tried to recreate and to preserve some of these moments in the Tiger of 1963.

As we continue our onward march, we shall never forget Dear Carver High. We shall always try to employ to the very best of our abilities, the many skills and principles which we have obtained here.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Patricia Kornegay

In Dedication

The Members of the Senior Class of 1963, proudly dedicate their class annual to their parents and teachers. We dedicate this collection of our cherished memories to you, to humbly express our gratitude for the inspiration and guidance which you have given us during our years in school.

Without your constant guidance and inspiration, we feel that we would never have reached this goal. To our teachers, we shall use the many principles which you have given us to continue to achieve and to improve. To our parents, who have made many sacrifices for us, we shall always honor you and make you proud of us.

This, the 1963 CARVER TIGER, which we dedicate to you is our very small way of saying Thank you.

MR. G. C. HAWLEY, Principal

Principal's Message

To a senior class which has been busy throughout its four-year era at this institution, I am glad to extend my congratulations. A review of personalities, belonging to members of the Class of 1962, brings pleasant memories. This has been an active class, a remarkable group, a promising set of young men and young women. Activities and programs of the school and community have been led and promoted by many of you. You have shown tenacity of purpose in your pursuit of learning. You have ranked high in competitive events; you have cheered and inspired persons in other classifications to the extent that growth and development of the school have been enhanced by your presence here.

I trust that your educational experiences at Carver High School will ever serve as sources of strength for you as you join other life functions.

The entire faculty, parents, and other school supporters join me in, wishing you "Bon Voyage."

Class History

Motto: "Out of The Harbor Into The Sea"

On a moderate day in September, 1959, a ship docked at the harbors of Carver High School. Aboard this ship were about one hundred thirty-two sailors. Mrs. Fox, Miss Malloy, Miss Edwards, and Mr. Clark were appointed as captains of our ship. They clearly and carefully explained to us the many trials and tribulations that were waiting to face us on the four seas.

As we entered the first sea, Freshman, we immediately organized our crew and began to work. Many of our sailors ventured into various activities and courses. Some of our sailors were highly honored and given special awards for the outstanding tasks which they performed. Among the honored were: Clara Grady, Corine Musgrave, Patricia Kornegay, Joseph Moore, Margaret Oates, Annette Barfield, Betty Taylor, Curtis Lofton, Gladys Battle, Thomas Elliott, and many, many others.

As we continued our sail, many sailors found it impossible to journey on with us, and docked at the nearest shore.

Before tackling our second sea, Sophomore, we docked for a brief rest, and our sailors had decreased to one hundred ten. We were patiently and courageously guided through our second voyage by Miss Edwards, Mrs. Washington, Miss Mouring, and Mr. Hickerson. All of the sailors were very excited and eagerly looked forward to the third voyage, Junior. However, as before, some of our sailors were lost.

In September 1961, we set out on our third voyage with much excitement and anticipation. We speedily organized our crew and were directed under the leadership of Tony Forbes, president; Clara Grady, vice president; Hilda Raynor, secretary; and Joseph Moore, treasurer. These members were such outstanding sailors that they received special honor, by being inducted into the National Honor Society: Annette Barfield, Corine Musgrave, Clara Grady, Gladys Battle, Patricia Kornegay, Thomas Elliott, Joseph Moore, and Curtis Lofton.

Our ship was rapidly approaching "The Oriental Gardens." Upon our arrival we docked for an evening of fun, relaxation, and enjoyment. The seniors and faculty were invited to share in this evening of enchantment.

Having passed triumphantly through the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Seas, we entered very proudly the sea of Seniority. Mrs. Clark, Mr. Clark, and Mr. Creech, steered us through the final and long awaited destination. We were also guided by our officers which included Thomas Elliott, president; Joseph Moore, vice president; Clara Grady, secretary; Elizabeth Smith, treasurer; and Corine Musgrave and Hilda Raynor, reporters.

Carrie Roberts and Elizabeth Smith, two of our sailors, were formally introduced to society at the Cinderella Ball. Also, our crew docked at Durham, North Carolina for a brief tour of North Carolina College.

Having endured the many trials and hardships which faced us, we were finally rewarded for having made our four voyages at our Graduation Exercises.

POEM

Dear Carver, we've found you good and true,
And how we love your gold and blue.
Your Alma Mater, we'll never forget
But always remember it with our greatest respect.

Dear Principal, and teachers, you're dearest to our hearts,
And it is with deep sorrow that we shall depart.
The many years, we've stayed here
Have filled us with kindness, goodwill and cheer.

So now we are bidding farewell to you
For we have other work to do.
We'll remember that success is not borrowed,
For followers of today, are leaders of tomorrow.

Kathryn Williams

SONG

Tune: "He"

Dear old Carver High
Our thanks to thee we give,
For your guiding hand and for
Your kindness too.

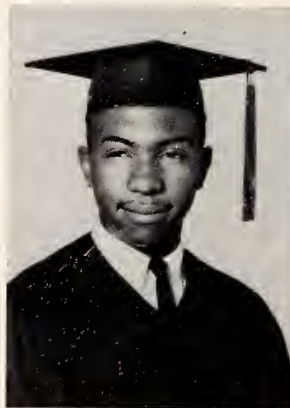

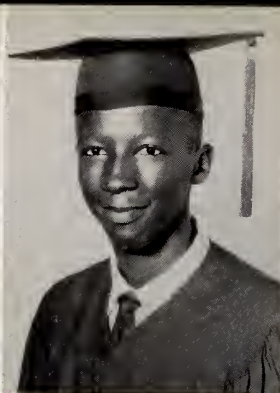

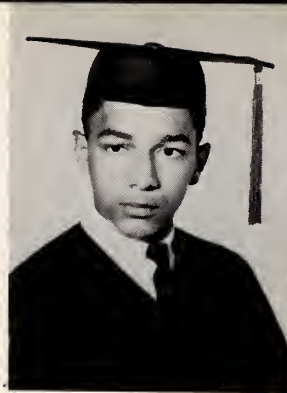

We give thanks to teachers
And our principal too.
We know only with your help
We've progressed through.

Though we must leave
The dear Old Gold and Blue,
We shall sadly say adieu to
All of you.
Here we leave our memories,
And our happiness to you.
Oh Carver High farewell
To you.

Class Prophecy

Classmates, I am sure you have often heard the saying, "Time will Tell." But in my case it isn't true. As the prophetess of the class of 1962-1963, I shall foretell the future of my classmates.

As I turn my crystal ball, I see that many of my classmates will be living in different parts of the world. They all will have a variety of interesting and exciting careers.

Jerry Grady and James Grandy will be at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base flying the latest jets. Bobby Melton, Lonnie Armwood, Donald Bass, Lamont Williams, Bobby Stevens, Allen Kornegay, Willie Martin, and Nathaniel Howell, will be serving their country in different parts of the world by their active duties in the Armed Forces. Serving along with them will be Josephine Jones, and Gladys Battle who are wacs in the Armed Forces. Mary Merritt and Vennie Stewart will be some of the world's most gracious airline hostesses.

Margaret Oates and Corine Musgrave will devote themselves to the active duty of Social Workers in Australia. Devoting themselves to the care of others will be Doris Royall, Sandra King, and Mary Hagans who will be nurses in different parts of the United States. Gertrude King will be the favorite of all the patients as she will be working as a Nurse's Aid in a New York hospital. Clara Grady will be one of the top Medical Researchers in North Carolina. Annette Barfield and Annie Bass will be top biological laboratory technicians in Washington, D. C.

Carolyn Teachey, as an Ebony Model, will model some of the world's finest fashions. Dorothy Yelvertson will work as a seamstress in a very exclusive dress shop in Paris.

Of course there will be some devoted teachers from our group. Some of them will be Annette Flanagan and Elizabeth Smith working as elementary teachers in the Dudley Elementary School System. Thomas Elliott and Ronald Broadhurst will be instructing Commercial Education and Social Science at our dear Alma Mater. Larry Ward and Joseph Moore will be a few miles away at different schools both teaching Commercial Education.

Tony Forbes and Earl Sauls will be engineers and will construct one of the world's greatest bridges. Charles Brewington will work as a diesel mechanic in one of the world's greatest oil industries. Archie Graham will own an Esso Garage with Herman Barnes, Russell Wooten, John Wynn, and Johnnie King as his employees.

Laddie King, Eunice McClain, Gladys Smith, Ida Jones, Mamie Thompson, Mildred Kornegay, Evon Fields, Doris Bennett, and Hilda King will earn their fame in the field of secretarial work. Patricia Hinton, and Hilda Raynor will be working as secretaries in the Pentagon.

Marvin Hatcher will be known for his Upholstery Shop which will be located in Goldsboro, N. C. Louis Robertson will own his own Funeral Home where Oleatha Boseman will be employed as his bookkeeper.

Barbara J. Gookman will own the most elaborate beauty salons ever to be in Mt. Olive. Employed there to give your hair the natural look will be Marion Jones, Irene Sutton, Mary Smith, Delois Powell, Peggy Sutton, Dorice Graham, and Evelyn Bass. Lemeul Pearsall will own a chain of barbershops throughout the United States. The managers of these shops will be Council McCullen, Isacc Whitfield, John Best, Thermon Bizzell, and Jimmy Melton.

One of my classmates, Patricia Kornegay, will win fame as one of the world's greatest actresses.

ALMA MATER

(Tune: The Bells of Saint Mary)

Our dear Alma Mater	Your hallways so noble,
The pride of our soul,	Your classrooms so dear
The torch that doth guide us,	Your aims and your standards
As life's way unfolds,	We'll ever revere.
And long may your flame be,	As over life's pathway,
A guide for each day.	We journey each day.
Your name and your spirit, (chorus)	We sing ALMA MATER
We'll cherish for aye.	As you guide our way.

Dear Carver, We love you,
We'll always adore you.
Thy precepts and teachings
We'll ever endure.
They take us through tumults
With courage undaunted.
And so thy name, we loud proclaim
Dear Gold and Blue
